

Drawn by A. H. Bumstead

THE ISLAND OF HAITI, SHOWING ITS TWO REPUBLICS

The Republic of Haiti, which occupies the western portion of the island, has an area slightly less than that of Maryland. Santo Domingo is comparable in size to Vermont and New Hampshire combined. Haiti's population in 1012 was estimated at two and a half millions: Santo Domingo's in 1018 was estimated at slightly less than a million.

From Nat-Geogr., Der., 1920

Trou Caiman o Gantier Obecame Morrie Tranchaut o Kenskatt Fonds Verettes MASSIF Re Ru Normal Colonia HOTTE OJacmel LeMaria Sal Tru Classe locate Crête à Pignants. and Morne Malanger.

いけって Se de TIZZA A ò

